

Amendments to the Abstract:

Please replace the Abstract with the following:

The present invention relates to the treatment of psychosis associated with interferon- $\alpha$  therapy by administering an amount of a glucocorticoid receptor antagonist effective to ameliorate the symptoms of psychosis in the patient, wherein the patient is not otherwise in need of treatment with a glucocorticoid receptor antagonist. The present invention further relates to kits for the treatment of Hepatitis C infection in a patient.